

An aerial photograph of a golf course. In the upper center, there is a large clubhouse with a brown roof and several windows. To the left of the clubhouse is a parking lot filled with many cars. In front of the clubhouse, there is a large area where many golf carts are parked in neat rows. The golf course itself is green with several fairways and green areas. There are some trees scattered around the course, and a small building is visible in the upper left corner.
